FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Emergency Management Hosting Community Disaster Preparedness Event

Greenville, S.C. – September is National Preparedness Month. Greenville County Emergency Management, in conjunction with The Home Depot, will be hosting a community disaster preparedness event. This is a family-friendly event. See attached flyer.

- What: Get Ready Greenville! A Community Disaster Preparedness Event
- When: Saturday September 28, 2019
9 a.m. - 1 p.m.
- Where: The Home Depot
2490 N. Pleasantburg Dr.
Greenville, S.C. 29609
- Who: Local and state agencies and organizations tasked with emergency and disaster preparedness, response, and recovery.
- Why: September is National Preparedness Month. This free community event will help individuals and families become better prepared for emergencies and disasters. Those who are prepared not only benefit themselves, but also the community as a whole.
